

AWAKENED TO SEE NEGRO

BURGLAR IN HIS ROOM
Alfred Pence Recognizes Robber as
Green Gordon—Home of Elmer
Denham Also Entered

As a climax to the many burglaries which have occurred in Stanford within the past year, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Denham on Lower Main, was robbed early Thursday morning and the "midnight marauder" was about to rifle the clothes of Alfred Pence, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Pence, Sr., a short distance west of the Denham home, when Mr. Pence awoke and scared the burglar, a negro, off. Mr. Pence recognized the burglar as a negro by the name of Green Gordon, and the next day swore out a warrant for his arrest. Sheriff J. G. Weatherford and Chief of Police B. D. Carter found Gordon working a section hand on the railway, and lodged him in jail. He protests his innocence, but Mr. Pence asserts that he cannot be mistaken in the man. Judge Bailey held him over to the grand jury under $100 bond and he went to jail. It was shortly after 2 o'clock when Mr. Pence was awakened by the flaring of light in his eyes, and he was startled to see a man in the room with a match in his hand, reaching for his trousers which lay on a chair. As he had something like $40 in his pocket, Mr. Pence did not hesitate but shouted "Get out of here," and the intruder "got" in a hurry.

Mr. Pence jumped out of bed and was right after the negro, and ran to the back hall door, thinking he had made his exit that way. It happened that this door had been left unlatched that night, but the negro had evidently traced him, for he had entered the room through a dining room window, and when he found that he had been discovered ran across the hall to the dining room and made his getaway out the window. Not hearing the back screen door—through which he thought the burglar had entered—Mr. Pence jumped at the conclusion that he was still in the house, so made a hurried search of all the rooms, but found no trace of him and the next morning an examination of the dining room showed that the screen had been pried off a rear window.

The negro, Gordon, worked at the Pence home, early in the year, and knew the location of the various rooms. He held the match shaded in one hand close to his face, and Mr. Pence declares that he recognized him the minute he saw him. He noticed the dark gray coat the burglar was wearing, and this was the kind of coat that Gordon had when arrested.

Mr. Denham, whose home was robbed, probably earlier the same night, was not so fortunate as Mr. Pence, as he is loser of about $12 and a ring which were obtained at his home.

SHOOT AT BURGLAR

Mrs. Ed Wilkinson Went After Negro With Shotgun Last Night

Right on the heels of the burglaries at the Pence and Denham homes, another burglary was attempted at the home of Ed Wilkinson, the well-known home artist, on Lancaster street Thursday night about 9 o'clock. Miss Ollie Phillips, of Liberty, niece of Mrs. Wilkinson, who has been their attractive guest for several days, happened to go to the kitchen for a drink of water about that hour, when she was horrified to see a negro man attempting to push the screen out of the window. She gave a scream, and ran to the front of the house where Mrs. Wilkinson and other members of the family were sitting and told them of her experience. Mrs. Wilkinson, who is as handy and expert with a shotgun as her husband is with a fishing pole, jumped for her gun and running out the front door and around the house, fired a shot at the man as he scaled the wire fence over the back yard. He made his escape, and could be heard running down the alley at the side, and Mrs. Wilkinson fired again. Mr. J. T. Blankenship, who lives nearby, also heard the man running and Mrs. Wilkinson's shots and came out with his gun, but the negro had made his escape by that time, evidently badly frightened at the warm reception he had met. Mr. Wilkinson had not returned home at that hour but came soon afterwards, and found where the negro had climbed over the wire fence at the rear of his residence. The screen in the kitchen window was a brand new one and bore the marks of the negro's efforts to force it out of place.

MURDER NEAR MT VERNON

Unidentified Man Found in Woods With Body Badly Mutilated

News comes from Mt. Vernon that the body of an unidentified man, apparently about 27 years old, was found by the ashes of a camp fire in the woods, one mile east of that place on Wednesday afternoon. The body was found by a man, as his head and face had been beaten in by a bludgeon or some kind. A piece of blood stained fence rail was found near the body, and it was probably this that was used by the murderer. The condition of the body indicated that death had taken place two or three days ago.

The only clues which may lead to the identification of the dead man were the trademark "Dismukes, Knoxville," on the broken alarm hat which was found by the body, and a Louisville & Nashville switch key marked "D. 27, 665." No paper of any kind was found on the body.

The dead man was 5 feet 7 inches tall, and weighed about 130 pounds. His hair is black and he had a scant mustache. He was clad in khaki trousers, a blue gingham shirt and a cheap worsted coat. He wore ekhide laced boots.

Jailers Must Charge Regular Rates
County jailers don't own the jails and don't run boarding-houses, in the opinion of Assistant Attorney General M. M. Logan, who has informed Assistant State Auditor G. B. Lykens that the broken authority to make contracts with the Attorney General of the United States for keeping United States prisoners in the county jails, is a statutory fee. He said, however, that the Attorney General might make contracts with the jailers as to his fees. The opinion was rendered on the request of County Jailor Charles C. Foster, of Jefferson county, in whose jail the broken authority was found.

Confine prisoners at the rate of seventy-five cents per day. Other jailers have agreed to take them for fifty cents per day.

FREE DELIVERY IN STANFORD

Might Be Preliminary Step Toward a Federal Building, Says Helm

Congressman Harvey Helm is writing to his constituents in Stanford that he is now hopeful of securing a public building for Stanford and that an inspector might be here to investigate the feasibility of free delivery of mail in the city. His letter reads as follows:

Washington D. C., March 20, '14.
Dear friend: I have always been hopeful that I might be able before my service in Congress expires to secure an appropriation for a creditable public building for my home town. One of the first steps in this direction is the establishment of free city delivery, which heretofore the receipts of the Post office have not justified, and this has stood in the way.

The last Postoffice Appropriation Bill carried an appropriation to be used for "experimental free delivery" in cities the size of Stanford. I am endeavoring to persuade the officials of the Post Office Department to have our city selected as one of the places in which this experimental service will be tested. The establishment of such a service after such a test would be a long stride toward securing the public building and would have great weight with the Committee on Public Buildings, here in Washington, in favor of a public building appropriation, which will have to be made.

The usual procedure is to send an inspector to the city where such experimental service is to be tested, and the degree of interest, in favor of such service, which exists among the patrons of the post office is one of the principal elements of favorable consideration by the officials who control the establishment of this particular kind of service. Other elements of consideration are sidewalks and street lights, in both of which I think we can meet the test; of course, stores and residences would have to be numbered, and many of them already are.

The only thing that is to be done would be an agreement on the part of patrons to place inexpensive boxes at residences. I trust that I will have the hearty co-operation of every one in securing this service, which, as far as I am concerned, is the initial step in securing the public building.

A letter from you to me, showing your interest in this movement, to be shown to the officials having this thing in charge, will be of much assistance. I will be in my efforts to have an inspector detailed to look the project over. Permit me to suggest that, if an Inspector is sent there for this purpose, he be shown such attention and courtesies as are calculated to impress him with the desirability of having your help in this undertaking. I am, Very Respt., HARVEY HELM.

In accordance with this letter from Congressman Helm, petitions are being prepared and every business man and resident of Stanford will be asked to sign them, requesting the installation of free city delivery and a government building for Stanford. One petition will be left at the L. J. office, another at the postoffice and a third at Penny's drug store, and as soon as all the signatures possible have been obtained, the letter will be forwarded on to Washington.

Great Pictures Saturday Night
The Pathe Freres, the most marvelous pictures ever taken, represent the absolute high tide in the gradual rise of the motion picture idea of entertainment. An expedition of over 350 men spent a year in the depths of the African jungles, and braved death from fever and wild beasts, in order that this wonderful entertainment might be presented.

Mr. Rainey, who is a millionaire sportsman from Cleveland, Ohio, undertook his big game hunt at first merely from the point of sport. He was the first African big game hunter to provide that the wonderful scenes he saw, and the strange experiences he passed through should be preserved for the delectation of the American public, through the medium of the motion picture. Accompanying his expedition was a large corps of expert photographers and motion picture camera operators, and whenever there was a hunt to be made, the expedition was up into the jungles, these intrepid men of the camera and film were in the forefront.

The Rainey expedition consists of 35 white men, 325 black men, 135 camels, 60 horses, 60 dogs, and 150 sheep on the hoof. Mr. Rainey, Prof. Heller of the Smithsonian Institute, and others, and their personal retinues met Mr. Allen Black, of Australia, and Mr. Augustus Outram, of the Transvaal, at Port Said, and while traveling to Mombassa, completed their plans. Dr. William Johnston was added as physician and surgeon, and a staff of photographers. At Mombassa the completed Safari, or hunting journey, was arranged. Black giants of the Wahili, ambals, khaki and agile Swahilis, thin and wiry Kavannas, and Kharkuas, the courageous inky Massai, and smart Somalis, all African tribesmen noted for their endurance and other worthy qualities, accompanied the expedition, some as employees and carriers, and the remainder for the love of the sport.

Mr. Rainey's expedition cost him over $250,000, and the time consumed was about one year. This great picture will be shown at the opera house on Saturday night.

Rebels Playing a Big Role Now
Niagara Falls, Ont., May 22.—There is a feeling on the part of the principles to the mediation conference here that the savage advance of the constitutional army under General Villa inevitably must have a bearing upon the settlement of the difficulties between the United States and Huerta's party.

When the South American mediators withdrew the invitation they had extended to General Carranza, to send delegates to the Niagara Falls conference, because of the refusal of the constitutional leader to agree to an armistice to continue during the sessions, it was stated that the conference will not be held in the event of questions growing out of the Tampico incident and subsequent causes of irritation between the Mexican federal army and the American military forces.

Official reports coming yesterday from constitutional sources, reciting the victories of Villa and his army in the Saltillo campaign have convinced the Mexican representatives here that Huerta's foes cannot be stopped. Moreover, the execution of a federal general and his entire staff by Villa has impressed upon them the fact that leaders of the federal army cannot hope for mercy if they fall into the hands of the constitutionalists.

That the weakening situation of the federal forces may force Huerta's hand is recognized here. The Mexican delegates came here believing that any announcement of Huerta's attitude toward proposals looking to a settlement of the Mexican trouble would be left to them to announce and their strongest card was believed to be authority given by Huerta to agree to his enticement conditional upon the selection of a temporary government acceptable to the interests represented by him.

All this has been changed by Villa's reports. The federal forces Tuesday exhibited no love of fight and the rebels are not expected to offer the stubborn resistance that marked so many of the engagements with the Mexican capital.

As a result Huerta's supporters fear that they may not draw away the outcome of the mediation. It was because of his feeling that all principals of the conference yesterday accepted unhesitatingly a dispatch from Mexico saying that Huerta had himself committed to the Mexicans the duty of retreating if his resignation was necessary to peace. Later it was learned that there had been an error in transmission and Huerta had not authorized such a statement, but this did not change the situation. It was evident that some such announcement was not unexpected.

If Villa and his forces are kept out of Mexico City, according to belief here, it will not be because Huerta is strong enough to deny entrance to his enemies. Such an advent can be avoided, it is said by speedy solution of the problem confronting the A. B. C. mediators, and few believe this to be possible except through the prompt action of the United States government. With a solution of this problem and the report Republics of South America are in accord concerning the future policy of Mexico.

The mediators believe that Carranza and his assistants would be obliged to subscribe to their findings and bloodshed would end.

At Niagara Falls
Niagara Falls, Ont., May 22.—The three South American mediators today talked with the representatives of Gen. Huerta and U. S. A. to learn in general way the viewpoint of the American representatives on various tentative plans for a solution of the Mexican problem.

The mediators pursued the same course as the Mexican delegates to-day as they did with the American peace commission last night. No formal expression of views was required, but the mediators suggested hypothetical steps looking to a settlement of the Mexican imbroglio and learned the trend of thought of the delegates.

No proposals of a definite character had been made to the Americans and it was understood that none were contemplated until they had been discussed with the Mexicans.

The conference between the Mexican delegates and the mediators lasted an hour. At its conclusion Emilio Rabasa, chairman of the Mexican delegates, said:

"We are merely exchanging ideas and getting each other's point of view. These informal conferences first with the American and then with the Mexican delegates will continue until there is some definite point to lay before the full conference. No definite basis of settlement was suggested to us today. We merely talked over the whole situation."

COMMENCEMENT IN EAST END

Exercises at Crab Orchard Graded School Mark Successful Term

Crab Orchard, May 22
Our graded school taught by Prof. Hancock and his assistants, Prof. Lovell, Misses Judd, Floyd and Cox, held its commencement exercises at the Baptist church on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, of last week. On Monday evening the little tots of the school gave one of the most interesting entertainments ever given here. They showed remarkable talent both in elocution and music and held the interest of the audience during the entire performance. Tuesday evening the fourteen young ladies and gentlemen engaged in an oratorical contest that would have compared favorably with any held in our large cities. Prof. William Martin, of Richmond, in commendation of their efforts said he had just attended the same kind of contest in Lexington, and that our contestants were in no wise behind those of Lexington.

Each one deserved a prize. Taking her age in consideration, we would have been compelled to have given little Miss Ida Hunter a prize had we been a judge, as she is not much over thirteen years old, and showed a great amount of oratorical talent both in the selection of her subject and the way she handled it. Mr. Shirley Gover, received first prize of four dollars, Miss Ethel Giesel second prize, three dollars, Miss Myrtle Giesel received third prize two dollars, and Mr. Boyle Vass Singleton received fourth prize of one dollar, although he certainly recited in a most perfect manner.

Wednesday was the regular commencement exercises, awarding prizes, and certificates and diplomas. Mr. Shirley Gover won the medal and the cheer of the vast crowd. It has been a most successful year for our school and the young people deserve great credit.

One of the most enjoyable social events of the season was the reception given by Mrs. Margaret Gover on last Friday evening in honor of the oratorical contestants, and the graduates of the Crab Orchard graded and high school. The floral decorations were in the class colors, green and white. In the receiving line with Miss Gover were Mr. Shirley Gover, Misses Myrtle Murry and Ida Judd. The oratorical contestants were Misses May Bailey, Ida Hunter, Myrtle Giesel, Ethel Giesel, Anna Barnes, Gwendolyn Humphrey, Bessie Reynolds and Messrs. Monte Fish, Boyle Vass Singleton, Humble Napier, Bennie Duke and Shirley Gover. Other guests were Misses May Napier, Sarah Hundley, Kate Napier, Birde Peters and Messrs. Thomas Brougham, Billie George Holding, Ed. Thompson, John Stephenson, William Thompson, Jack Perkins and William Humphrey. Music and games were indulged in and then the crowd repaired to Mrs. Gover's beautiful dining room, where delicious refreshments consisting of strawberries, ice cream and cake, were served. The party broke up at a late hour, after assisting the hostess that they had been most delightfully entertained.

Prof. Hancock left last Thursday for his home in Shepherdsville. He is one of the very finest teachers, a splendid Christian gentleman and while here made many warm friends who regret to know he will teach elsewhere next season.

Miss Edith Hancock came over from Shepherdsville to assist her father in the closing exercises, by rendering some excellent selection on the piano. Her music was certainly a great treat to all lovers of classical music.

Last Saturday night Miss Edna King gave a social at her pretty home, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. King of Indianapolis. About 75 guests enjoyed the music and dance. All had a most enjoyable time. Miss Edna knows how to entertain and the younger set enjoy many happy hours at her hospitable home.

Mr. John Jones and wife, of Coxton, Ky., are visiting their sister, Mrs. Lucy McClure.

Miss Polly Reynolds, of Goshen, is the guest of Misses Maud and Nell Goodrich.

Mr. Jack McCall, of Tennessee, was the guest of his sister, Mrs. Agnes Herrin.

Mr. J. D. Steenbergen, of Eubank, motored to Crab Orchard Sunday and took Mr. George Stephenson home to help him in his carpentering contracts in that city.

The Delbordes here are beautifying their home on Stanford street. A cornice, new tin roof, newly topped chimneys, and will treat the house to a nice coat of paint.

Mr. William Humphrey, of Jellico, Tenn., is here on a visit to his parents at the Humphrey hotel.

"BEATEN TO A FRAZZLE"

Beckham Has His Two Opponents, Say Congressmen From Kentucky

Even in Washington the members of Congress, have the rumbling from Kentucky, and for the winner in senatorial primary. A dispatch to the Cincinnati Enquirer this week said:

Washington, May 17.—That former Governor J. C. W. Beckham will be nominated for Senator by the Democrats of Kentucky, hands down, if all three of the candidates now in the running continue in the race, is the opinion of practically the entire Kentucky Democratic delegation in Congress.

A canvass of sentiment in the delegation today found that, although some of the members are not in sympathy with the candidacy of Beckham, they are substantially a unit in the belief that he has got his opponents "beaten to a frazzle."

"I must not be quoted, either publicly or privately," said a prominent member of the delegation, "but there will be only one outcome to the senatorial contest if Governor McCreary and Representative Stanley both continue in the race, and that is that Beckham will be nominated by a sweeping majority. There is only one possible way to beat him, and that is by the withdrawal of either McCreary or Stanley, and I doubt if it can be done even then."

Another prominent Kentucky member said: "Beckham will be an easy winner, in my opinion. The masses of the Democrats of the state undoubtedly are for him."

The same sort of opinion was given by nearly all the Kentucky Democrats who are high in official circles here.

For several days rumors have been rife that either McCreary or Stanley would withdraw, but when these have been run down it has appeared, in every case, that the wish was father to the thought and that the idea emanated from some one who wanted to see Beckham beaten and who believes it cannot be done without a union of McCreary and Stanley forces. Even then it is doubtful whether the one withdrawing could deliver his forces to the other as against Beckham. Instead of withdrawing both McCreary and Stanley seem destined, as far as can be learned, to stay in the race and take the count.

The statesmen and politicians at Washington see that the Kentucky senatorial race has proceeded far enough to indicate that Beckham cannot be headed off.

Word has come to Washington that Marshall Bullitt, of Louisville, positively will not allow his name to go before the primary as a candidate for the republican senatorial nomination to succeed Senator Bradley.

In Wyoming, Colorado, Utah, Idaho, California, Washington, Oregon, Kansas, Arizona and Alaska women have full suffrage. In Illinois women vote upon practically all questions, except for members of the state legislature. This means that in the next presidential election nearly four millions of women will be enabled to voice their preference for the president of the United States, and may be a determining party factor.

A Straw Vote in Garrard
J. R. Mount, representative from Garrard county in the last legislature, candidate for postmaster of Lancaster and experienced observer of political conditions, is in the city today on a short business trip. Mr. Mount said that in his community, the Beckham stampede has become a rout, and that there will be few votes for any one but the former governor cast, according to present indications. Mr. Mount bases his conclusions on an impromptu straw vote taken at Lancaster a few days ago. Which showed 134 votes for Beckham, 11 for Stanley and 7 for McCreary. The county organization has been captured almost to a man, says Mr. Mount.—Lexington Leader.

Mrs. Mona Dunn Dead
Mrs. Mona Dunn, of Danville, died at the Danville and Boyle Hospital, on Wednesday afternoon, after an illness of only a few days. She was 70 years old and had been a devoted member of the Christian church. The deceased is survived by three children, Edgar Dunn and Miss Ella Dunn, of Danville and Thomas Dunn, of Texas. The funeral was conducted at the Christian church Thursday afternoon at Danville.

Davenport—Miller
Miss Bessie Davenport, daughter of L. W. Davenport, President of the Danville Bank, and Ella Miller, of Adair county, were married last week at Columbia. The bride is a talented young lady and the groom is said to be a splendid young man.

ENDORSED AT HOME
Such Proof as This Should Convince Any Stanford Citizen

The public endorsement of a local citizen is the best proof that can be produced. None better, none stronger can be had. When a man comes forward and testifies to his fellow citizens, addresses his friends and neighbors, you may be sure he is thoroughly convinced or he would not do so. Telling one's experience when it is for the public good is an act of kindness that should be appreciated. The following statement given by a resident of Stanford, adds one more to the many cases of Home Endorsement, which are being published about Doan's Kidney Pills. Read it.

H. D. Aldridge, blacksmith, E. Main St., Stanford, Ky., says: "I had pains through my back and the kidney action was irregular. I did not sleep well at night. When I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills, I used them. They soon strengthened my kidneys and stopped the pain."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Aldridge had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

HOW CHILDREN GROW

Children grow by nourishment—no overloaded stomachs or rich foods but qualities that are readily converted into life-sustaining blood; too often their digestive powers cannot procure these qualities from ordinary foods which results in weakness, dullness and sickness.

If your children are under-size, under-weight, catch cold easily, are languid, backward, pale or frail, give them Scott's Emulsion which is pure medicinal nourishment. It sharpens the appetite, builds healthy flesh, firm muscles and active brains. Scott's is growing-food for children. Refuse alcoholic substitutes.

"The Greatest Kidney Remedy on Earth," Says a Grateful Woman

I want to tell you how much good your Swamp-Root did me. About four years ago I suffered from what the doctors called fistula and for two years of that time, I endured what no tongue can tell. I also had inflammation of the bladder and I tried doctors medicines without receiving any help. Someone told me about Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

After giving it a thorough trial, I received relief, so keep on using it and today I am a strong and well woman. I never feel badly or out of sorts, I take Swamp Root and it always straightens me out. I honestly believe that this medicine would cure all troubles you recommend it for and it is a pleasure for me to send my testimony and photograph to you. I think Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is one of the greatest medicines on earth.

Respect yours,

MRS. J. N. BAILEY.

MIDDLEBURG

Several of the Baptist people here will attend the Fifth Sunday meeting at Liberty. Rev. C. T. Claunch will preach the introductory sermon and Rev. K. G. Martin is down for a talk.

The several days of dry weather that prevail at present are a blessing to farmers in this section. Corn planting was getting late, and but few of them had planted any, up to last week, but they have got in good time since the weather admitted, and most of them are about through.

Those who know say that 99 per cent of the democrats in this county are for Beckham for United States Senator, and are working hard to convert the other one per cent to their way of thinking. Stanley is said to have two supporters in the county and McCreary's followers will not average one to the voting precincts in the county.

Beckham's upright conduct and the disgraceful manner in which he has been treated has placed him mighty close to the hearts of honest democrats of Kentucky.

Golden Dawn Springs, at Yosemite will have a formal opening Saturday, May 23rd. A brass band will be on hand, to make music for the occasion and there will be various other attractions for the entertainment of the people. Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Keeney will have charge of the hotel and the springs, this season and they are said to be the best of hotel people and predict for them a prosperous business throughout the summer.

Our old friend W. T. Coulter, who spends most of his time on the banks of Green river fishing for sunperch says he has not been able to obtain suitable bait for some time. He employed Charlie Spears and Dr. J. M. Haney to furnish him with crawfish tails, and right in the midst of the fishing season they went on a strike. He admitted that he had hired them too cheap, and was willing to arbitrate their differences.

Mr. Lewis A. Riffle tells his experience with coughs and colds that lead to nervousness and debility.

Colds are often aggravated during the summer because inactive bowels and a stomach out of order are prime causes in keeping a cold from getting well.

Pe-ru-na has very beneficial laxative qualities that neutralize such conditions.

Mr. Lewis Riffle, of 755 Gautenbeim Ave., Portland, Ore., writes: "I have found Pe-ru-na a most remarkable medicine for building up the system and for curing coughs and colds."

"I took it for four weeks a few months ago when I was all run down, nervous and debilitated, and it quickly restored my health."

"I always keep it on hand, as a few doses will cure a cold if taken in time."

Dave Skinner, of Stonegap, Va., is here on his yearly vacation and is looking after his land as well as his business.

Why can't we have our town cleaned up as some of the alleys, as well as places on Main street are in bad looking condition? A visit by the president of county board of health would be very acceptable in our midst and have some little work done. Our side walks are crowded with machinery, until it is dangerous for pedestrians to walk along for fear of running over a barrel or something else of the kind. We have an ordinance forbidding such and it seems that our city fathers could order the marshal to have same removed at once and make our streets have a more decent appearance.

The June grass seed crop promises to be a fine one, if we can have a good rain at once, so as to bring it up higher on the strippers can be used.

Everybody is as busy as bees planting corn and plowing over what has been planted. Corn is coming up splendidly this time, which is a great thing for the farmers, as seed is awful high this time.

Strawberries are being brought in now and are something fine. With a good rain now the crop will be a large one.

The cherries have most all fallen off in this section, due to the late freezes in blooming time, it is thought.

There are the finest lot of tobacco plants in this section that was ever seen, and a large crop is expected to be put out this season, if the weather will permit right away. There is a large lot of land all ready for setting, as soon as a season can be had and lots of land still being prepared for the crop.

A lot of our citizens went fishing on Tuesday in Green river, and were well paid for their trip as they succeeded in catching some awful nice ones and more have gone today to try their luck with the finny tribe.

Mr. W. P. Kincaid, the Stanford tobacco man, was in town yesterday and says he has never known such splendid prospects for a large tobacco crop as exist this season. All growers have an abundance of large, healthy plants the land is in shape and much planting has already been done. With the first rain hundreds of acres will be set out. Most of the growers are preparing to put in a larger acreage than usual and altogether an immense crop will be grown in this section if the season proves favorable—Danville Advocate.

Stop that waste

THE stalks and husks from your corn crop represent just so much life taken out of your soil. If you do not use them for feed and return them to the ground in the form of fertilizer you are getting poorer every year. If your fields and barn yard are littered with stalks and your ground is growing less fertile season after season you need an

INDIANA SILO

It will convert all your corn from the ground level to the tassels, into fresh, succulent feed and it will keep your cattle in prime condition all year round. Best of all—it will pay for itself out of what it saves for you in a single season. There will be another winter before long, with high priced feed and hard work in zero weather. Why not get ready for it by erecting an Indiana Silo before next harvest time.

We've got a mighty good proposition to make to you right now—a money saver. Give us a chance to tell you about it.

FAMOUS ONE-HORSE SHAY

Has a Close Rival in Buckboard Owned by Col. Uriah Dunn

Col. Uriah Dunn, the veteran horse and mule dealer of the West End of Lincoln county, drove into Hustonville from Barnwell, S. C., last week in the old one-horse shay that he drove to the southern market exactly forty years ago. During all the length of time he has used it in his selling operations in the southern city, seven months out of the year, and from its appearance Monday in Danville in the Danville by an I. J. representative, it appears good for about forty years' further service.

Forty years ago, according to Mr. Dunn's story of the ancient vehicle, he had it made by a buggy manufacturer in Versailles. It is a handsome vehicle and notwithstanding its hard usage and the two long trips it has made from Hustonville, Kentucky, to Barnwell, South Carolina, the first in its youth and the return in its old age—and has "stood up" splendidly, and bids fair to stick together for another couple of score of years.

Mr. Dunn says that he has only had to have a few new spokes put into the wheels in the way of repairs during all that period of time. He has been turned over to a ditch once or twice, but has never had a serious accident with it. The nearest he has come to having a bad accident, happened as he drove from Hustonville to Danville in the old vehicle Monday morning, when a mare he was driving shied at a roller which Porter Sandage was using on one of his fields between Milledgeville and Shelby City.

The animal forced the vehicle over against a fence and the jump she made threw the seat forward and Mr. Dunn out between the body of the vehicle and the wheel, catching him in such a way that he was unable to release himself, and had he not had nerve enough to hold on to the seat, he would have been thrown out of the vehicle.

Mr. Dunn says that he expects his old buckboard to stick together, unlike the famous One-Horse Shay, it just naturally drops to pieces all at once.

When Mr. Dunn drove in from South Carolina the other day, the wheels were one solid cake of mud, frozen between the spokes, caused by a fearful maelstrom of roads of North Carolina and Tennessee.
